The Samuel H. Kress Foundation

was established on March 6, 1929
by Samuel H. Kress.

The Kress Foundation was endowed through the generosity of Samuel H. Kress (1863–1955)
and his brothers
Claude W. Kress (1876–1940)

Mission Statement

Valuing the artistic expression and historic content of European art and architecture from antiquity to the 19th century, the Kress Foundation nurtures excellence in the study, conservation, and presentation of this artistic heritage through programs that focus on

FOSTERING PROFESSIONAL RESOURCES

Preparation of essential human, academic, and scientific resources and expertise for the highest quality of professional performance in archaeology, art historical scholarship, and the conservation of European art and architecture.

CONSERVING EUROPEAN ART AND ARCHITECTURE

Historically accurate conservation of works of European art and artistically significant European architecture.

INTERPRETING EUROPEAN ART IN REGARD TO ORIGINAL CONTEXT

Presentations that promote the contemplation of specific works of art in light of their original place and purpose in human life.

GENERAL PROGRAM SUPPORT 47

TOTAL GRANTS 52
Funding Priorities

Kress Foundation grants are concentrated on projects and programs that promote the understanding and enjoyment of European art and architecture, especially in relation to its historic context.

The Care and Presentation of European Art

Grants for the documentation, care, and display of European art and architecture. This area includes two special programs:

OLD MASTERS IN CONTEXT

Planning and implementation grants to encourage the presentation of works of European art in regard to the context for which they were originally made.

EUROPEAN PRESERVATION PROGRAM

Grants for the conservation of artistically significant architectural heritage in Europe, administered by the World Monuments Fund.

The Practice of Art History and Conservation

Grants that develop and utilize the skills and experience of trained professionals. Emphasis is placed on two program areas:

ESSENTIAL RESOURCES

Grants that support the means by which specialized knowledge is created and disseminated, including publications, archives, photography, documentation, databases, catalogues, technical and scientific studies, and other materials that relate to art historical research and art conservation.

SHARING EXPERTISE

Grants for activities that permit art historians and conservators to share their expertise through international exchanges, professional meetings, conferences, symposia, consultations, the presentation of research, and other structured events.
Kress Fellowships

Grants for advanced research and training in art history and conservation. Kress Fellowships are sponsored at a broad range of institutions. In addition, the Foundation administers competitive grants in the following areas:

ADVANCED KRESS FELLOWSHIPS AT MUSEUMS OF ART

Fellowships for a year of specialized training within a museum of art in preparation for a career as a conservator or curator.

PRE-DOCTORAL KRESS RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS IN THE HISTORY OF ART

Fellowships for independent research for the doctoral dissertation.

Special Initiatives

Occasional projects in which the Foundation takes an active role in development and implementation.
The Care and Presentation of European Art

At once unique and vulnerable, works of European art and architecture require specialized attention both for their physical condition and for their enjoyment.

Old Masters in Context

Works of European art that are treasured in museums or other public institutions share a common fate—their aesthetic qualities are recognized and valued, but they are separated from the locale for which they were created and the meaning that it conveyed. As familiarity with European history and culture declines, so too does the capacity to understand European art. Old Masters in Context, a program initiated by the Foundation in 1999, invites museum curators and art historians to work together on presentations that enrich the experience and appreciation of European art by recapturing elements of its historic context. Grants are offered for both the planning and the implementation of projects.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF ARTS
New York, New York

Symbols of Power: Napoleon and the Art of the Empire Style, 1800–1815
For an exhibition exploring the political, social, and economic forces behind the development and evolution of the Empire style of decorative arts. Objects will be drawn from both American and French collections, including furniture, silverware, porcelain, jewelry, costumes, textiles, wallpapers, metalwork and sculpture. The exhibition will be shown at the St. Louis Art Museum, the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and the Musée des Arts Décoratifs in Paris.

AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES AT ATHENS
Princeton, New Jersey

The Art of Antiquity: Piet de Jong and the Athenian Agora
For an exhibition at the Benaki Museum in Athens bringing together watercolors by Piet de Jong (1887–1967), one of the most important archaeological illustrators of the 20th century, with many of the objects that he illustrated or that inspired him, drawing on the collection of antiquities in the Agora Museum.
BOB JONES UNIVERSITY MUSEUM & GALLERY
Greenville, South Carolina

Tommaso del Mazza Triptych

For an exhibition reuniting a long-dispersed triptych by the early Renaissance painter, Tommaso del Mazza, and bringing together an unprecedented display of nearly all known works by del Mazza in American collections along with works from Europe. 20,000

CLEVELAND MUSEUM OF ART
Cleveland, Ohio

Conservation and reassembly of the Rottière Room

For the re-installation of the Rottière Room, a collection of architectural elements from a painted room of the Louis XVI period, designed by decorator Rousseau de la Rottière. These architectural elements and their associated furniture will become part of a suite of galleries that chart the history of French painting, sculpture, and decorative arts from the 17th to the early 19th century. 30,000

COURTAULD INSTITUTE OF ART
London, England

David Teniers and the Theatre of Painting

For an exhibition exploring David Teniers’s 1660 publication of the Theatrwm Pictorwm, a lavishly illustrated single-volume catalogue of Archduke Leopold Wilhelm’s Italian masterpieces, the first illustrated catalogue of its kind. 40,000

DENVER ART MUSEUM
Denver, Colorado

Impressionism & the Art of the Past

For an exhibition examining how Impressionist artists were influenced by the painting techniques, subject matter, and genre of previous historical periods, particularly that of the Old Masters. The exhibition will also be on view at the High Museum of Art, Denver Art Museum, and Seattle Art Museum. 50,000
ISABELLA STEWART GARDNER MUSEUM
Boston, Massachusetts

The Triumph of Marriage: Painted ‘Cassoni’ of the Renaissance

For the planning of an exhibition that will focus on depictions of both historical triumphal processions, as well as literary triumphs, on cassoni, or marriage chests. Isabella Stewart Gardner (1840–1924) was one of the first American collectors of Italian Renaissance cassoni. The exhibition will also travel to the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art.

10,000

MEMPHIS BROOKS MUSEUM OF ART
Memphis, Tennessee

Venice in Canaletto’s Age

For an exhibition examining Canaletto and the contrast between the artist’s Venetian paintings and the works of his contemporaries who were also active in the city. The exhibition will cover a span of approximately 100 years, beginning in 1697, the year of the artist’s birth, and ending in 1797.

75,000

MUSEUM OF BIBLICAL ART
New York, New York

Renaissance Art and the Devotional Imagination

For an exhibition that will shed new light on the art of Northern Europe and Italy from the 13th to 16th centuries. The exhibition will challenge the conventional perception of the “Renaissance” by situating the artistic achievements of the time within their larger cultural contexts.

10,000
MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS, HOUSTON
Houston, Texas

Pompeo Batoni: The Best Painter in Italy

For an exhibition of one of the most illustrious 18th-century painters in Rome. Batoni recorded participants in the Grand Tour through portraits, and his religious and mythological works were eagerly sought by the greatest patrons and collectors on the Continent and in Britain. The exhibition will also appear at The National Gallery, London, and the Palazzo Ducale in Lucca. 40,000

NORTH CAROLINA MUSEUM OF ART
Raleigh, North Carolina

European Altarpiece Gallery

For the research and design of the Altarpiece Gallery, the largest gallery in the new North Carolina Museum of Art, which is being designed by Thomas Phifer and Partners and is scheduled to open to the public in the Spring of 2009. The European Altarpiece Gallery will house the museum’s collection of Renaissance and Baroque altarpieces, including key examples donated by the Kress Foundation. 10,000

TRUST FOR MUSEUM EXHIBITIONS
Washington, DC

The Knights of Malta: Treasures of the Order of St. John

An exhibition that will reunite a number of treasures from the illustrious history of the Knights of Malta and present them in an exhibition setting that recreates the original context for which they were commissioned and made. 10,000

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON
Eugene, Oregon

Giuseppe Vasi’s Rome: Lasting Impressions from the Age of the Grand Tour

For an exhibition on the prolific Roman printmaker Giuseppe Vasi (1710–1782), juxtaposing his visual chronicle of the 18th-century city onto modern images and interpreting his world. 65,000
WADSWORTH ATHENEUM
Hartford, Connecticut

Speaking Across Space: Reunited Pendant Paintings
For an exhibition reuniting pendant paintings held in collections throughout the Americans and Europe. The Atheneum has a number of pendants, several of which were acquired separately and then joined; and several which, through loans, could be reunited with their counterparts. 50,000

WALTERS ART MUSEUM
Baltimore, Maryland

A Matter of Faith: Relics and Reliquaries
To plan an exhibition that will scrutinize the Christian cult of relics through a thematic display of the most precious and culturally significant reliquaries from Late Antiquity through the Middle Ages. 10,000

WELLESLEY COLLEGE
Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts

Grand Scale: Oversize and Composite Prints in the Age of Durer and Titian
For a traveling loan exhibition which aims to highlight and contextualize the little-studied phenomenon of large-scale printed imagery in Renaissance Europe. The exhibition will appear at the Davis Museum & Cultural Center, Yale University Art Gallery, and the Philadelphia Museum of Art. 50,000
Works of Art in Museums

Within museums, European art is documented, conserved, and displayed for public regard, all activities that qualify for Kress Foundation support. Special attention is given to the Kress Collection, which also benefits from the advanced training program for the conservation of Old Masters at New York University. In addition to the projects reported here, works of art in public collections are often the subject of Kress grants supporting the resources of scholarship, professional meetings, conservation science, and the training of curators and conservators.

The quest for original context leads to the historic buildings and settings that once surrounded, supported, and elevated works of art and have often been similarly buffeted by time. Aiding the preservation and study of European architectural heritage, the Kress Foundation European Preservation Program, administered by the World Monuments Fund, supports the conservation of artistically significant buildings and sites. Other grants advance specific projects.

The Kress Foundation European Preservation Program

WORLD MONUMENTS FUND
New York, New York

Established in 1987, the Kress Foundation European Preservation Program is a competitive program of challenge grants, administered by the World Monuments Fund, that offers timely support for endangered European heritage. Grants are primarily for aspects of the preservation process—initial planning, documentation, emergency repairs, clearly identified phases of field work, and on-site training. Although the individual grants are never large, their value can be enormous, since the international recognition conferred by the program is often the spark that ignites significant local attention and funding. A typical grant ‘leverages’ at least three times as much as its financial award (and often a great deal more), and the site may also benefit from the professional expertise of the World Monuments Fund.

European Preservation Program Conservation Grants

CHURCH OF SAINT-SULPICE DE FAVIERES
Saint-Sulpice de Favières, France

For conservation of stained glass windows at this 13th-century church south of Paris, built on the site of a late 12th-century church, and influenced by the architecture of the Sainte-Chapelle in Paris. Many of the stained glass windows are preserved from the 13th century, and are suffering from the effects of increasing pollution in the area, natural aging, and the ill effects of chemicals used in prior cleaning efforts.

40,000
BYZANTINE CHURCHES AND FRESCOES
Tbilisi, Georgia

For the Biodeterioration Technical Workshop, to address the presence of a rare type of biological growth that damages the architecture and frescoes of the Byzantine Churches of Georgia, as well as other monuments from different periods. The workshop will convene a group of international experts to evaluate a number of case studies where biological growth has already been treated, develop guidelines for monitoring and treating the problem, and train Georgian conservators and experts. 25,000

PELLA MACEDONIAN TOMBS
Pella, Greece

For the emergency stabilization of the tumulus and consolidation of the cracks of one of the tombs, a group of monuments from the period of King Philip and Alexander the Great, which have suffered from changes in temperature and humidity since their excavation in 1994. In addition, an assessments of humidity and biological conditions in the tombs will provide for treatment strategies for these and other tombs facing similar threats. 40,000

HEADFORT HOUSE
ROBERT ADAM INTERIORS
Kells, Ireland

For a detailed survey of the historic interiors and furnishings of the state rooms at Headfort House, the only commission of Robert Adam’s office to survive in Ireland. An initial study revealed an unexpectedly detailed decorative scheme in the state rooms, with a carefully conceived and varied use of color that seems to draw on techniques used in 18th-century painted furniture, and which represents a development in Adam’s work that is unique to Ireland. 25,000
MONUMENTAL CEMETERY
Pisa, Italy

For the conservation and reinstallation of Benozzo Gozzoli’s painting of “The Erection of the Tower of Babel,” one of several frescoes that were removed from the walls following fire damage during World War II. It has been discovered that the frescoes have deteriorated from the ill effects of certain materials used in previous conservation efforts. 50,000

RUNDALE PALACE
MUSEUM LIBRARY CEILING FRESCO
Pilsrundale, Latvia

For continuing conservation of the library ceiling fresco by Francesco Martini and Carlo Zucchi, 1766–69, in the summer palace of the Duke of Courland, which was painted over in the late 19th century, and suffered substantial water damage at various periods in the 20th century. This phase of conservation will focus on the removal of overpaint and stabilization of the paintings, which have already undergone preliminary consolidation. 30,000

SANTA MARIA DE MIRAFLORES CATHEDRAL
Burgos, Spain

For conservation at the Miraflores Carthusian Monastery, just outside Burgos. Designed by Hans and Simon of Cologne and completed in 1482, the monastery contains one of the most impressive ensembles of medieval interior art and architecture to survive in Spain. Conservation will focus on the main entrance portal, and also a reproduction of the statue of St. James—the original of which is currently in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York—using a high definition 3-dimensional imaging technique. 75,000
TEMPLE OF AUGUSTUS AND ROME
Ankara, Turkey

For a roundtable of international marble and stone conservation experts to evaluate the use of bio-mineralization at the temple of Augustus and Rome, one of the most important monuments to survive from the reign of Rome’s first emperor. The temple has been rapidly deteriorating due to vibrations from traffic and seismic activity, as well as sulfur dioxide from automobile emissions. 25,000

MERYEM ANA CHURCH
Goreme, Cappadocia, Turkey

For assessment of the structural conditions and interior decoration of this Byzantine church, carved out of an outcropping of rock overlooking a deep gully, and containing elaborate wall paintings from the 9th to the 13th centuries. One of several such structures in Cappadocia, Meryem Ana Church faces severe threats to its overall stability, and to various parts of the structure. 25,000

WESTMINSTER ABBEY
London, England

For analysis of the deterioration of the sedilia, an elaborate painted and carved oak seating structure for the clergy, located in the sanctuary of Westminster Abbey. Its unstable condition has developed from an unsuitable microenvironment, including overpainting, boarding up, and candle burning, and all of its eight painted panels display extremely fragile polychromy. 65,000

TECHNICAL MISSIONS
Czech Republic and England

For technical missions by outside consultants 10,000
   St. Anne’s Church, Prague (condition survey)
   Strawberry Hill, England (database technology and training)

Total Grants for the Care and Presentation of European Art 1,150,070
The Practice of Art History and Conservation

Scholars and conservators of European art pursue a discipline in which their primary materials—works of art and architecture and essential sources of information—are widely dispersed. Access to specialized knowledge and to other experts in the field is a key element in the development and maintenance of their professional skills.

Essential Resources

Books and scholarly articles, catalogues, archives and databases, photographic images, maps, surveys, technical and scientific studies, condition reports, dendrochronology, the crystalline structure of stone, and many other forms of research contribute to our greater understanding of works of art. Kress Foundation support in this area ranges from documenting objects and sites (The Photographic Archives of the National Gallery of Art) and disseminating the wisdom of the past (The Cicognara Library Microfiche Project) to fundamental compilations (Conservation Textbooks). These resources are essential for the care and comprehension of European art.

Kress Fellowships in the History of European Art

Recognizing the value of time devoted to preparation for a professional career or to the advancement of independent research in the history of art, competitive Kress Fellowships support gifted individuals for periods of intense concentration on their chosen subjects.

The research of established scholars and curators of European art is supported by Kress Fellowships at institutions such as the National Gallery of Art and the Villa I Tatti in Florence. Paired Fellowships are offered to art historians and conservators working together, and Kress Fellowships support the training of Art Librarians. Museums are invited to apply for funding to host Kress Curatorial Fellows who spend a year on a defined project in their major area of interest. Several types of competitive Kress Pre-Doctoral Research Fellowships support Ph.D. candidates compiling their dissertations, who typically need to travel to view works of art or to pursue research at institutions in Europe or the Near East.

The names and projects of this year’s Kress Fellows appear in the separate document “Kress Fellows 2007.”

NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART
Washington, DC

The Samuel H. Kress Professorship in the History of Art 60,000

Established in 1965 to give stature and direction to the new program of Kress Fellowships for pre-doctoral research in the history of art, the annual Kress Professorship at the National Gallery of Art has been held by a succession of eminent European and American art historians. The Kress Professor is today the senior scholar in residence at the Center for Advanced Study in the History of Art.

Kress Fellowships in Art Conservation

The acquisition of skills in the conservation of art requires a thorough grounding in materials and techniques and supervised training in the handling of objects. Kress Fellowships offer young conservators valuable time with works of art in structured settings, such as the studio at New York University where paintings from the Kress Collection are treated by Kress Fellows. Museums and other institutions host Kress Conservation Fellows for work on specific projects, and archaeological excavations provide on-site training in conserving recently recovered objects. Kress Fellowships in Historic Preservation offer advanced students opportunities for research and experience on field sites.

The names and projects of this year's Kress Fellows appear in the separate document “Kress Fellows 2007.”

Kress Collection Conservation Fellowships

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
New York, New York

The Kress Collection Conservation Fellowship Program 110,000

Routine and necessary conservation of Old Master paintings from the Kress Collection is undertaken by advanced Kress Fellows in Paintings Conservation at the Conservation Center of the Institute of Fine Arts, under the supervision of Dianne Dwyer Modestini. Kress pictures from Washington, D.C., Portland, OR, and Waco, TX received treatment. The program benefits the pictures, the museums that own them, and the young conservators who enjoy the rare opportunity of treating European paintings as part of their professional training.

Independent Auditors’ Report

The Board of Trustees
Samuel H. Kress Foundation

We have audited the statements of financial position of the Samuel H. Kress Foundation as of June 30, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Foundation’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Samuel H. Kress Foundation as of June 30, 2007 and 2006 and its changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Respectfully submitted,

November 6, 2007

See Notes to Financial Statements
Note 1 - Organization

The Samuel H. Kress Foundation ("the Foundation") was established on March 6, 1929 by Samuel H. Kress. The Foundation is incorporated in the State of New York for the purpose of promoting the moral, physical and mental well-being and progress of the human race, using or creating such means or agencies as from time to time the Trustees shall deem expedient to accomplish such purpose.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements of the Foundation have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Operating Cash

For purposes of cash flows, cash consists of checking accounts.

Investments

Investments in marketable securities are valued at quoted market prices. Investments in alternative investment funds are ordinarily valued at the most recent estimate determined by the investment manager or agents based upon the valuation reported by the Fund Administrators in accordance with the policies established by the relevant funds. As a general matter, the fair value of the Foundation investment in these funds will represent the amount that the Foundation could reasonably expect to receive from the fund if the Foundation’s interest were redeemed at the time of valuation, based upon the information reasonably available at the time the valuation was made.

Valuations provided by these funds may be based upon estimated or unaudited reports, and may be subject to later adjustment or revision. Any such adjustments or revision will either increase or decrease the net asset value of the Foundation at the time the Foundation is provided with the information regarding the adjustment. The Foundation does not expect to restate its previous net asset values to reflect an adjustment or revision by these funds.

Realized gains and losses from the sale of securities are determined by comparison of cost to proceeds and are determined under the first-in, first-out method.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost and are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, building - 35 years, building fixtures - 5 to 15 years, office furniture and equipment - 5 to 10 years.

Grants

The Foundation records grants as expenses and liabilities at the time each grant is authorized by the Trustees and the recipient has been notified or the program is announced to the public. Grants are payable to the grantee according to the terms established by the Trustees and may be subject to routine performance requirements by the grantee.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates. The estimates are not material in the aggregate.

Note 3 - Investments

A summary of investments is as follows:

</tbody>
</table>

Less: Discount to present value  101,090

Total  $5,035,035

The Foundation used a discount rate of 5% in 2007 and 2006.

Note 7 - Retirement Plan and Commitments

The Foundation maintains a deferred annuity retirement plan under Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code for all eligible employees. The Foundation matches the employee’s contribution up to a maximum of 6% of an employee’s compensation. The plan expense for 2007 and 2006 fiscal years totaled $30,199 and $29,792, respectively.

Note 8 - Taxes

The Foundation is exempt from Federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and has been classified as a “private foundation.” The Foundation is subject to an excise tax on net investment income at either a 1% or 2% rate depending on the amount of qualifying distributions. For 2007 and 2006 the Foundation's rate was 2%.

Deferred Federal excise taxes payable were also recorded on the unrealized appreciation of investments using a 2% excise tax rate.
