

Responsive Grants

The Responsive Grants program is intended to allow the Foundation to support essential needs of the profession of art history that may not be explicitly addressed in our other program areas.

Grant Guidelines

Supports projects that are central to the mission of the Foundation but fall outside the three grant program areas.

Grants are awarded to non-profit institutions with 501(c) 3 status, based in the United States, including supporting foundations of European institutions.

These are competitive grants. Please see “Past Grants” and “Annual Reports” for past awards and typical levels of funding.

Application Materials

- ▶ Two to three page description of the project that outlines the history of the endeavor and details the scope of work to be undertaken
- ▶ Curriculum vitae of the project’s primary participant(s)
- ▶ A budget that illustrates the cost of the project as whole, as well as the expenses isolated for potential Kress support
- ▶ An indication whether or not partial support would be welcome and/or beneficial to the project
- ▶ Identification of the United States non-profit organization to which any grant funds would be issued, including a specific contact name, address, and a copy of the organization’s IRS determination letter. If the organization is an intermediary, such as a “Friends” group for overseas institutions, we also need to receive a statement from that organization that expresses their willingness to act as the administrative agent for the grant.
